Valuation Guidelines

NAV of a scheme as determined by dividing the net assets of the scheme by the number of outstanding units on the valuation date.

1. Traded Securities:

- (i) The securities shall be valued at the last quoted closing price on the stock exchange.
- (ii) When the securities are traded on more than one recognised stock exchange, the securities shall be valued at the last quoted closing price on the stock exchange where the security is principally traded. It would be left to the asset management company to select the appropriate stock exchange, but the reasons for the selection should be recorded in writing. There should, however, be no objection for all scrips being valued at the prices quoted on the stock exchange where a majority in value of the investments are principally traded.
- (iii) Once a stock exchange has been selected for valuation of a particular security, reasons for change of the exchange shall be recorded in writing by the asset management company.

- (iv) When on a particular valuation day, a security has not been traded on the selected stock exchange, the value at which it is traded on another stock exchange may be used.
 - (v) When a security is not traded on any stock exchange on a particular valuation day, the value at which it was traded on the selected stock exchange or any other stock exchange, as the case may be, on the earliest previous day may be used provided such date is not more than ¹[thirty] days prior to the valuation date.
2. 'Non-traded Securities' :
- (i) When a security is not traded on any stock exchange for a period of ²³⁹[thirty] days prior to the valuation date, the scrip must be treated as a 'non-traded' scrip.
 - (ii) Non-traded securities shall be valued "in-good faith" by the asset management company on the basis of appropriate valuation methods based on the principles approved by the Board of the asset management company. ²⁴⁰[For example, non traded debt and money market securities of short term maturities, as may be specified by the Board from time to time, may be valued on amortization basis provided that such valuation shall be reflective of the fair value of the securities and all investors are treated fairly.] Such decision of the Board must be documented in the Board minutes and the supporting data in respect of each security so valued must be preserved. The methods used to arrive at values "in-good faith" shall be periodically reviewed by the trustees and reported upon by the auditors as "fair and reasonable" in their report on the annual accounts of the fund. For the purpose of valuation of non-traded securities, the following principles should be adopted:—
 - (a) equity instruments shall generally be valued on the basis of capitalization of earnings solely or in combination with the net asset value, using for the purposes of capitalization, the price or earning ratios of comparable traded securities and with an appropriate discount for lower liquidity;
 - (b) debt instruments shall generally be valued on a yield to maturity basis, the capitalization factor being determined for comparable traded securities and with an appropriate discount for lower liquidity;
 - ²⁴¹(c) while investments in call money, bills purchased under rediscounting scheme and short-term deposits with banks shall be valued at cost plus accrual; other money market instruments shall be valued at the yield at which they are currently traded. For this purpose, non-traded instruments that is instruments not traded for a period of seven days will be valued at cost plus interest accrued till the beginning of the day plus the difference between the redemption value and cost spread uniformly over the remaining maturity period of the instruments;

- (d) in respect of convertible debentures and bonds, the non-convertible and convertible components shall be valued separately. The non-convertible component should be valued on the same basis as would be applicable to a debt instrument. The convertible component should be valued on the same basis as would be applicable to an equity instrument. If, after conversion the resultant equity instrument would be traded pari passu with an existing instrument which is traded, the value of the latter instrument can be adopted after an appropriate discount of the non-tradability of the instrument during the period preceding the conversion while valuing such instruments, the fact whether the conversion is optional should also be factored in;
- (e) in respect of warrants to subscribe for shares attached to instruments, the warrants can be valued at the value of the share which would be obtained on exercise of the warrant as reduced by the amount which would be payable on exercise of the warrant. A discount similar to the discount to be determined in respect of convertible debentures [as referred to in subparagraph (d) above] must be deducted to account for the period which must elapse before the warrant can be exercised;
- (f) where instruments have been bought on 'repo' basis, the instrument must be valued at the resale price after deduction of applicable interest upto date of resale. Where an instrument has been sold on a 'repo' basis, adjustment must be made for the difference between the repurchase price (after deduction of applicable interest upto date of repurchase) and the value of the instrument. If the repurchase price exceeds the value, the depreciation must be provided for and if the repurchase price is lower than the value, credit must be taken for the appreciation.

3. Until they are traded, the value of the "rights" shares should be calculated as:

$$V_r = n/m \times (P_{ex} - P_{of})$$

Where

- V_r = Value of rights
- n = No. of rights offered
- m = No. of original shares held
- P_{ex} = Ex-rights price
- P_{of} = Rights Offer Price

Where the rights are not treated pari passu with the existing shares, suitable adjustment should be made to the value of rights. Where it is decided not to subscribe for the rights but to renounce them and renunciations are being traded, the rights can be valued at the renunciation value.

²⁴²[3A. Value of Gold: (1) the gold held by a gold exchange traded fund scheme shall be valued at the AM fixing price of London Bullion Market Association (LBMA) in US dollars per troy ounce for gold having a fineness of 995.0 parts per thousand, subject to the following:

- (a) adjustment for conversion to metric measure as per standard conversion rates;
- (b) adjustment for conversion of US dollars into Indian rupees as per the RBI reference rate declared by the Foreign Exchange Dealers Association of India (FEDAI); and
- (c) Addition of-
 - (i) transportation and other charges that may be normally incurred in bringing such gold from London to the place where it is actually stored on behalf of the mutual fund; and
 - (ii) notional customs duty and other applicable taxes and levies that may be normally incurred to bring the gold from the London to the place where it is actually stored on behalf of the mutual fund;

Provided that the adjustment under clause (c) above may be made on the basis of a notional premium that is usually charged for delivery of gold to the place where it is stored on behalf of the mutual fund;

Provided further that where the gold held by a gold exchange traded fund scheme has a greater fineness, the relevant LBMA prices of AM fixing shall be taken as the reference price under this sub-paragraph.

(2) If the gold acquired by the gold exchange traded fund scheme is not in the form of standard bars, it shall be assayed and converted into standard bars which comply with the good delivery norms of the LBMA and thereafter valued in terms of sub-paragraph (1).]”

- 4. All expenses and incomes accrued upto the valuation date shall be considered for computation of net asset value. For this purpose, while major expenses like management fees and other periodic expenses should be accrued on a day-to-day basis, other minor expenses and income need not be so accrued, provided the non-accrual does not affect the NAV calculations by more than 1%.
- 5. Any changes in securities and in the number of units be recorded in the books not later than the first valuation date following the date of transaction. If this is not possible given the frequency of the Net Asset Value disclosure, the recording may be delayed upto a period of seven days following the date of the transaction, provided that as a result of the non-recording, the Net Asset Value calculations shall not be affected by more than ²⁴³[1%].

²⁴⁴[²⁴⁵6. In case the Net Asset Value of a scheme differs by more than 1%, due to non-recording of the transactions, the investors or scheme/s as the case may be, shall be paid the difference in amount as follows :—

- (ii) If the investors are charged lower Net Asset Value at the time of purchase of their units or are given higher Net Asset Value at the time of sale of their units, asset management company shall pay the difference in amount to the scheme. Securities and Exchange Board of India
(Mutual Funds) Regulations, 1996
²⁴⁸[[Regulations 49F(1) and (2), 50(3),55(4)(iii)]]
ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND STANDARDS

²⁴⁹[Part A: For Investment in Securities]

- a. For the purposes of the financial statements, mutual funds shall mark all investments to market and carry investments in the balance sheet at market value. However, since the unrealised gain arising out of appreciation on investments cannot be distributed, provision has to be made for exclusion of this item when arriving at distributable income.
- b. Dividend income earned by a scheme should be recognised, not on the date the dividend is declared, but on the date the share is quoted on an ex-dividend basis. For investments which are not quoted on the stock exchange, dividend income must be recognised on the date of declaration.
- c. In respect of all interest-bearing investments, income must be accrued on a day to day basis as it is earned. Therefore, when such investments are purchased, interest paid for the period from the last interest due date upto the date of purchase must not be treated as a cost of purchase but must be debited to Interest Recoverable Account. Similarly interest received at the time of sale for the period from the last interest due date upto the date of sale must not be treated as an addition to sale value but must be credited to Interest Recoverable Account.
- d. In determining the holding cost of investments and the gains or loss on sale of investments, the “average cost” method must be followed.
- e. Transactions for purchase or sale of investments should be recognised as of the trade date and not as of the settlement date, so that the effect of all investments traded during a financial year are recorded and reflected in the financial statements for that year. Where investment transactions take place outside the stock market, for example, acquisitions through private placement or purchases or sales through private treaty, the transaction should be recorded in the event of a purchase, as of the date on which the scheme obtains an enforceable obligation to pay the price or, in the event of a sale, when the scheme obtains an enforceable right to collect the proceeds of sale or an enforceable obligation to deliver the instruments sold.
- f. Bonus shares to which the scheme becomes entitled should be recognised only when the original shares on which the bonus entitlement accrues are traded on the stock exchange on an ex-bonus basis. Similarly, rights entitlements should be recognised only when the original shares on which the right entitlement accrues are traded on the stock exchange on an ex-rights basis.

²⁵⁰[(g) Where income receivable on investments has accrued but has not been received for the period specified in the guidelines issued by the Board, provision shall be made by debiting to the revenue account the income so accrued in the manner specified by guidelines issued by the Board.]

- h.* When in the case of an open-ended scheme units are sold, the difference between the sale price and the face value of the unit, if positive, should be credited to reserves and if negative be debited to reserves, the face value being credited to Capital Account. Similarly, when in respect of such a scheme, units are repurchased, the difference between the purchase price and face value of the unit, if positive should be debited to reserves and, if negative, should be credited to reserves, the face value being debited to the capital account.
- i.* In the case of an open-ended scheme, when units are sold and appropriate part of the sale proceeds should be credited to an Equalisation Account and when units are repurchased an appropriate amount should be debited to Equalisation Account. The net balance on this account should be credited or debited to the Revenue Account. The balance on the Equalisation Account debited or credited to the Revenue Account should not decrease or increase the net income of the fund but is only an adjustment to the distributable surplus. It should, therefore, be reflected in the Revenue Account only after the net income of the fund is determined.
- j.* In a close-ended scheme ²⁵¹[launched prior to the commencement of the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Mutual Funds) (Amendment) Regulations, 2009] which provide to the unit holders the option for an early redemption or repurchase their own units, the par value of the unit has to be ²⁵²[debited] to Capital Account and the difference between the purchase price and the par value, if positive, should be ²⁵³[credited] to reserves and, if negative, should be ²⁵⁴[debited] to reserves. A proportionate part of the unamortized initial issue expenses should also be transferred to the reserves so that the balance carried forward on that account is proportional to the number of units remaining outstanding.
- k.* The cost of investments acquired or purchased should include brokerage, stamp charges and any charge customarily included in the broker's brought note. In respect of privately placed debt instruments any front-end discount offered should be reduced from the cost of the investment.
- l.* Underwriting commission should be recognised as revenue only when there is no devolvement on the scheme. Where there is devolvement on the scheme, the full underwriting commission received and not merely the portion applicable to the devolvement should be reduced from the cost of the investment.
- ²⁵⁵*m.* In case of real estate mutual fund scheme, investments in unlisted equity shares shall be valued as per the norms specified in this regard.

²⁵⁶[Part B: For direct investment in real estate asset

Definitions

1. In this Part, unless the context otherwise requires:-

(a) 'fair value' means the amount for which an asset could be exchanged between knowledgeable parties in an arm's length transaction and certified by the real estate valuer;

(b) 'knowledgeable' means that both the buyer and the seller are reasonably informed about the nature and characteristics of the real estate asset, its actual and potential uses, and market conditions at the balance sheet date;

2. A real estate asset that is held by a real estate mutual fund scheme shall be valued at fair value.

3. Where a portion of the real estate asset is held to earn rentals or for capital appreciation and if the portions can be sold or leased separately, the real estate mutual fund scheme shall account for the portions separately.

Initial Recognition

4. A real estate mutual fund scheme shall recognise a real estate asset if:

(a) it is probable that the future economic benefits that are associated with the real estate asset will flow to the real estate mutual fund scheme; and

(b) the cost of the asset can be measured reliably.

5. A real estate mutual fund scheme shall evaluate all its real estate asset costs including those incurred initially to acquire a real estate asset and those incurred subsequently to add to, replace part of, or service a real estate asset, at the time they are incurred:

Provided that a real estate mutual fund scheme shall not recognise in the carrying amount of a real estate asset the costs of the day-to-day servicing of such an asset and such costs shall be recognised in the revenue account as incurred.

6. A real estate mutual fund scheme may acquire parts of real estate assets through replacement. For example, the interior walls may be replacements of original walls. Under the recognition principle, an real estate mutual fund scheme shall recognise in the carrying amount of a real estate asset, the cost of replacing part of an existing real estate asset at the time that cost is incurred if the recognition criteria are met. The carrying amount of those parts that are replaced shall be derecognised in accordance with the derecognition provisions given in later paragraphs.

7. The real estate asset shall be recognized on the date of completion of the process of transfer of ownership i.e. the date on which the real estate mutual fund scheme obtains an enforceable right including all significant risks and rewards of ownership.

Measurement at initial recognition

8. A real estate asset shall be measured initially at cost. Such cost shall comprise purchase price and any other directly attributable expenditure such as professional fees for legal services, registration expenses and asset transfer taxes.

9. If the payment for a real estate asset is deferred, its cost is the cash price equivalent. A real estate mutual fund scheme shall recognise the difference between this amount and the total payments as interest expense over the period of credit.

10. A real estate mutual fund scheme may acquire one or more real estate assets in exchange for a non-monetary asset or assets, or a combination of monetary and non-monetary assets. The cost of such a real estate asset shall be measured at fair value unless (a) the exchange transaction lacks commercial substance or (b) the fair value of neither the asset received nor the asset given up is reliably measurable. The acquired real estate asset shall be measured in this manner even if an real estate mutual fund scheme cannot immediately derecognize the asset given up. If the acquired real estate asset cannot be measured at fair value, its cost shall be measured at the carrying amount of the asset given up.

11. A real estate mutual fund scheme determines whether an exchange transaction has commercial substance by considering the extent to which its future cash flows are expected to change as a result of the transaction

Explanation: An exchange transaction has commercial substance if:

- (a) the configuration (risk, timing and amount) of the cash flows of the asset received differs from the configuration of the cash flows of the asset transferred, or
- (b) the real estate mutual fund scheme-specific value of the portion of the real estate mutual fund scheme's operations affected by the transaction changes as a result of the exchange, and
- (c) the difference in (a) or (b) is significant relative to the fair value of the assets exchanged.

For the purpose of determining whether an exchange transaction has commercial substance, the real estate mutual fund scheme-specific value of the portion of the real estate mutual fund scheme's operations affected by the transaction should reflect post-tax cash flows. The result of these analyses may be clear without an real estate mutual fund scheme having to perform detailed calculations.

12. The fair value of an asset for which comparable market transactions do not exist is reliably measurable if (a) the variability in the range of reasonable fair value estimates is not significant for that asset or (b) the probabilities of the various estimates within the range can be reasonably assessed and used in estimating fair value. If the real estate mutual fund scheme is able to determine reliably the fair value of either the asset received or the asset given up, then the fair value of the asset given up is used to measure cost unless the fair value of the asset received is more clearly evident.

Subsequent Measurement

13. After initial recognition, a real estate asset held by a real estate mutual fund scheme shall be measured at its fair value.

14. A gain or loss arising from a change in the fair value of the real estate asset shall be recognised in the Revenue Account for the period in which it arises. The gain that arises from the appreciation in the value of real estate asset is an unrealised gain and thus the same cannot be distributed.

Explanations

i. Fair value specifically excludes an estimated price inflated or deflated by special terms or circumstances such as atypical financing, sale and leaseback arrangement, special considerations or concessions granted by anyone associated with the sale.

ii. The fair value of real estate asset shall reflect market conditions at the balance sheet date

iii. The fair value of real estate asset reflects, among other things, rental income from current leases and reasonable and supportable assumptions that represent what knowledgeable, willing parties would assume about rental income from future leases in the light of current conditions. It also reflects any cash outflows that could be expected in respect of the asset.

iv. The best evidence of fair value is given by current prices in an active market for similar real estate asset in the same location and condition and subject to similar lease and other contracts. Care shall be taken to identify any differences in the nature, location or condition of the asset, or in the contractual terms of the leases and other contracts relating to the asset.

v. In the absence of current prices in an active market, information from a variety of sources shall be considered, including:

(a) current prices in an active market for properties of different nature, condition or location (or subject to different lease or other contracts), adjusted to reflect those differences;

(b) recent prices of similar properties on less active markets, with adjustments to reflect any changes in economic conditions since the date of the transactions that occurred at those prices; and

(c) discounted cash flow projections based on reliable estimates of future cash flows, supported by the terms of any existing lease and other contracts and (when possible) by external evidence such as current market rents for similar properties in the same location and condition, and using discount rates that reflect current market assessments of the uncertainty in the amount and timing of the cash flows.

vi. In some cases, the various sources listed in the previous paragraph may suggest different conclusions about the fair value of a real estate asset. The reasons for those differences shall be considered, in order to arrive at the most reliable estimate of fair value within a range of reasonable fair value estimates.

vii. (a) Where the fair value of the asset is not reliably determinable on a continuing basis, a real estate mutual fund scheme shall measure that real estate asset at cost as per Accounting Standard (AS) 10, Accounting for Fixed Assets. The residual value of the real estate asset shall be assumed to be zero. The real estate mutual fund scheme shall apply AS 10 until disposal of the investment asset.

(b) The fair value of the asset will be considered to not reliably determinable on a continuing basis if the variability in the range of reasonable fair value estimates is large, and the probabilities of the various outcomes difficult to assess, such that the usefulness of a single estimate of fair value is negated. This may be due to infrequent comparable market transactions and alternative reliable estimates of fair value (for example, based on discounted cash flow projections) being not available.

viii. In determining the fair value of the real estate asset, it shall be ensured that there is no double-counting of assets or liabilities.

Explanation:

(a) equipment such as lifts or air-conditioning is often an integral part of a building and is generally included in the fair value of the real estate asset, rather than recognised separately as asset, plant and equipment.

(b) if an office is leased on a furnished basis, the fair value of the office generally includes the fair value of the furniture, because the rental income relates to the furnished office. When furniture is included in the fair value of real estate asset, an real estate mutual fund scheme shall not recognise that furniture as a separate asset.

(c) the fair value of real estate asset shall exclude prepaid or accrued operating lease income, because the real estate mutual fund scheme would recognise it as a separate liability or asset.

(d) The fair value of real estate asset held under a lease reflects expected cash flows (including contingent rent that is expected to become payable). Accordingly, if a valuation obtained for an asset is net of all payments expected to be made, it will be necessary to add back any recognised lease liability, to arrive at the fair value of the real estate asset for accounting purposes.

ix. The fair value of real estate asset does not reflect future capital expenditure that will improve or enhance the asset and does not reflect the related future benefits from this future expenditure.

x. Where a real estate mutual fund scheme expects that the present value of its payments relating to a real estate asset (other than payments relating to recognised liabilities) will exceed the present value of the related cash receipts it shall apply Accounting Standard (AS) 29, Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets to determine whether to recognise a liability and, if so, how to measure it.

15. To determine the fair value of a real estate asset in accordance with the above-mentioned paragraphs, a real estate mutual fund scheme is required to use the services of two independent and approved valuers having recent experience in category of the real estate asset being valued and use the lower of the two valuations.

16. For accounting for rental income on real estate asset, Accounting Standard (AS) 19, Leases, shall be followed. Such income shall be accrued on a daily basis, till the currency of the lease agreements.

17. Where the rental income receivable by a real estate mutual fund scheme in respect of real estate asset, has accrued but has not been received for the period specified by the Board. Further, provision shall be made by debiting to the revenue account the income so accrued in the manner as may be specified by the Board.

Derecognition of Real Estate Asset

18. A real estate mutual fund scheme shall derecognise a real estate asset on disposal or when the asset is permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefits are expected from its disposal.

19. In determining the date of disposal for real estate asset by way of sale, a real estate mutual fund scheme shall apply the criteria in Accounting Standard (AS) 9, Revenue Recognition, for recognising revenue from the sale of goods and considers the related guidance in the Appendix to AS 9.

20. Gains or losses arising from the disposal or retirement of real estate asset shall be determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the real estate asset and shall be recognised in the Revenue Account in the period of the disposal or retirement.

21. The consideration receivable on disposal of a real estate asset is to be recognised initially at fair value. In particular, if payment for a real estate asset is deferred, the consideration received is recognized initially at the cash price equivalent. The difference between the nominal amount of the consideration and the cash price equivalent should be recognised as interest revenue over the period of credit.]

2. Accounting Policies

- (a) For investments in securities- Following accounting policies shall be followed by Mutual Funds for investments in securities for the preparation of accounts:
 - i. The realised gains or losses on sale or redemption of investment, as well as unrealised appreciation or depreciation shall be recognised in all financial statements. For the purpose of all financial statements, all investments shall be marked to market and investments shall be carried out in the balance sheet at market value. However, till necessary guidance notes are issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India to their members, in the above matter, investments may be continued to be valued at cost, with the market value shown separately and the reconciliation statement for the changes in investments valued in the two different ways shall be provided.

²⁶⁷Substituted by the SEBI (Mutual Funds) (Amendment) Regulations, 2008, w.e.f. 16-4-2008. Prior to substitution, Eleventh Schedule was amended by the SEBI (Mutual Funds) (Amendment) Regulations, 1998, w.e.f. 12-1-1998, SEBI (Mutual Funds) (Amendment) Regulations, 2001, w.e.f. 23-1-2001 and SEBI (Mutual Funds) (Amendment) Regulations, 2000, w.e.f. 14-3-2000.

Where the financial statements are prepared on a marked to market basis, there need not be a separate provision for depreciation. Since unrealised gain arising out of appreciation on investments cannot be distributed, provision has to be made for its exclusion and for calculating distributable income.

- ii.* Non-traded investments shall be valued in good faith in accordance with the norms specified in Seventh Schedule.

Provided that in the case of real estate mutual funds schemes, investments in unlisted equity shares shall be valued as per the norms specified by the Board in this regard.

- iii.* For quoted shares, the dividend income earned by the scheme shall be recognised, not on the date the dividend is declared, but on the date the share is quoted on an ex-dividend basis. For investments in shares which are not quoted on the stock exchanges, the dividend income must be recognised on the date of declaration.
- iv.* In respect of all interest-bearing investments, income shall be accrued on a day to day basis as it is earned. Therefore when such investments are purchased, interest paid for the period from the last interest due date upto the date of purchase, shall not be treated as a cost of purchase, but shall be treated to Interest Recoverable Account. Similarly, interest received at the time of sale for the period from the last interest due date upto the date of sale must not be treated as an addition to sale value but shall be credited to Interest Recoverable Account.
- v.* In determining the holding cost of investments and the gains or loss on sale of investments, the “average cost” method shall be followed.
- vi.* Transactions for purchase or sale of investments shall be recognised as of the trade date and not as of the settlement date, so that the effect of all investments traded during a financial year are recorded and reflected in the financial statements for that year. Where investment transactions take place outside the stock market, for example, acquisitions through private placement or purchases or sales through private treaty, the transaction shall be recorded, in the event of a purchase, as of the date on which the scheme obtains an enforceable obligation to pay the price or, in the event of a sale, when the scheme obtains an enforceable right to collect the proceeds of sale or an enforceable obligation to deliver the instruments sold.
- vii.* Bonus shares to which the scheme becomes entitled shall be recognized only when the original shares on which the bonus entitlement accrues are traded on the stock exchange on an ex-bonus basis. Similarly, rights entitlements shall be recognised only when the original shares on which the right entitlement accrues are traded on the stock exchange on an ex-rights basis.
- viii.* Where income receivable on investments has been accrued and has not been received for a period of 12 months beyond the due date, provision shall be made by debit to the revenue account for the income so accrued and no further accrual of income should be made in respect of such investment.
- ix.* When the units of an open-ended scheme are sold, the difference between the sale price and the face value of the unit, if positive, shall be credited to Reserves and if negative is debited to reserve, the face value being credited to Capital Account. Similarly, when units of an open-ended scheme are repurchased, the difference between the purchase price and face value of the unit, if positive should be debited to reserves and, if negative, should be credited to reserves, the face value being debited to the capital account.

- x. (a) In the case of an open-ended scheme, when units are sold an appropriate part of the sale proceeds shall be credited to an Equalisation Account and when units are repurchased an appropriate amount shall be debited to Equalisation Account. The net balance on this Account should be credited or debited to the revenue account. The balance on equalization account debited or credited to the Revenue Account shall not decrease or increase the net income of the fund but is only an adjustment to the distributable surplus. It shall, therefore, be reflected in the Revenue Account only after the net income of the fund is determined.
- (b) The Trustees of the Board of the Trustee Company may, if necessary, transfer a portion of the distributable profits to a dividend equalization reserve. Such a transfer would be independent of the requirement to operate an Equalisation Account as provided in (x)(a).
- xi. In a close-ended scheme ²⁶⁸[launched prior to the commencement of the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Mutual Funds) (Amendment) Regulations, 2009] which provides to the unitholders the option for an early redemption or repurchase their own units, the par value of the unit shall be debited to Capital Account and the difference between the purchase price and the par value, if positive, should be debited to reserves and, if negative, should be credited to reserves. In case of such schemes launched prior to the commencement of the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Mutual Funds) (Amendment) Regulations, 2008 a proportionate part of the unamortised initial issue expenses shall also be transferred to the reserves so that the balance carried forward on that account is proportional to the number of units remaining outstanding.
- xii. The cost of investments acquired or purchased shall, inter alia, include brokerage, stamp charges and any charge customarily included in the broker's bought note. In respect of privately placed debt instruments any front-end discount offered shall be reduced from the cost of the investment.
- xiii. Underwriting commission shall be recognised as revenue only when there is no devolvement on the scheme. Where there is devolvement on the scheme, the full underwriting commission received and not merely the portion applicable to the devolvement shall be reduced from the cost of the investment.
- (b) For investments in real estate assets- Following accounting policies shall be followed by real estate mutual fund schemes for the preparation of accounts:
- i. The accounting policies given in paragraph 2(a) in respect of investment in securities;
- ii. The accounting policies given in Part B of the Ninth Schedule in respect of real estate assets; and
- iii. In a real estate mutual fund scheme which provides to the unit holders the option for an early redemption or repurchase their own units the par value of the unit shall be debited to Capital Account and the difference between the purchase price and the par value, if positive, should be debited to reserves and, if negative, shall be credited to reserves.
